

SOCIAL SKILLS GROUP For CHILDREN with AUTISM

MONDAY and TUESDAY GROUPS
Starting February 4th 2013!!!!

In FAYETTEVILLE!!
1469 Starr Drive Fayetteville AR 72701

“See how the Touch of a Horse can open the Door to a whole new World for a Child with Autism!”

Equestrian Bridges’ is a non-profit dedicated to improve upon the Social Skills of Children with Autism through Equine Assisted Activities and Therapies (EAAT). Many theories exist about the benefits of a horse; however, research proves that simply petting a horse causes our brain waves to calm. It is a sensory experience unlike any other.

Please register early because space is limited. This 6-week course is offered to Children with Pervasive Developmental Disorders ages 5-10 and will help teach communication, respect for others, and build your child’s confidence. The children learn how to work together in a group using Horses. There is only a $50.00 registration fee to reserve a miniature therapy horse for your child to work with. Parent groups are offered while the children are working with the horses to explain the “lesson” of the day and how you can apply the techniques at home If you cannot afford the 50.00 registration fee, please contact us, assistance and sponsorships can be offered!

Thank you for your support and we hope to bring more advanced Equine Assisted Therapies to more children in the future.
